

Collecting and Using Personal Information

When accessing Mednet's website, personal information is not collected from you without your consent (such as if you give it to us in order to sign up for a webcast). However, when subscribing to Mednet's monitoring service, certain medical and personal information is collected by other means (e.g., telephonic monitoring devices) and aggregated on our website for restricted access by treating physicians. Your personal information is not collected by merely visiting our website even if Mednet is currently providing you with a monitoring service.

Protecting Your Privacy

Though we do not collect personal information from visitors to our website, unless you expressly provide it to us, Mednet collects personal information by other means from subscribers to our services. We restrict access to this personal information to only the treating physician of a Mednet client. We do not sell any patient information that we may otherwise collect. Access to personal information otherwise collected and available to treating physicians may be gained only by individuals with a prescribed account and a valid password. Personal information is protected through the use of physical and electronic safeguards throughout the Company. For more information on the use of medical information, please see our Protected Health Information Privacy Notice.

Other information; Cookies

Cookies are elements of data that are sent to your browser and stored on your hard drive. The stored data permit a website to recognize you as a returning visitor of the website on you next visit.

Linking to Other Sites

Our site may include links to entities related to Mednet. These links are provided for your convenience and do not operate to collect or provide any information about you.

Disclosure Authorization

We do not disclose your personal information to anyone unless required by law or with your express authorization. To authorize us to disclose your personal information to any person or organization not otherwise required by law or expressly permitted, please call us at 1-800-606-5511 to obtain an authorization form. You may revoke any authorization by sending a written revocation request to us. Any written revocation we receive shall be effective to the extent permitted by law.

Policy Regarding Children

Mednet does not encourage children to use its website. Our products and services are never marketed to children.

Your Rights Regarding Personal Information

To the extent that Mednet has collected any personal information through non-internet means, you have certain rights with respect to your personal information. You have the right to access, correct and update your information. We are required by law to protect your personal information against loss, misuse or alteration. If you wish to discuss this policy or revoke any prior authorized disclosures of personal information, please contact:

Mednet Healthcare Technologies
Attn: Privacy Officer
100 Ludlow Drive
Ewing, New Jersey 08638

Mednet may change this Policy from time to time without notice. We will prominently place notice of updates or changes to this Policy on this website. This Policy is not intended and does not create any contractual or other legal rights on behalf of any party.